

Subscribe

Past Issues

Translate ▼

Newport Ventures, in conjunction with NYSERDA provides education and support for Energy Code stakeholders throughout New York State.

INSIDE THE ENERGY CODE

NEWPORT VENTURES

Each year the Northeast Energy Efficiency Partnerships (NEEP) comes out with a fun blog post offering unique perspective on the HERS rating data across the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic states. The 2016 report compared the 12 NEEP states to Major League Baseball's Awards. New York was awarded the Cy Young for striking out the competition, building three times as many zero energy homes than any other state in the country. Changing things up, this year's installment of the series compared states to NBA basketball teams by taking a look at trends in the HERS data over the past 3 years.

While Maryland and Massachusetts are clearly on another level, like the Cavs and Warriors, New York is not far behind. The state has consistently ranked in the top 5 in HERS ratings over the past 3 years and is well ahead of the 2016 national median. New York homes also continue to produce HERS rating scores at our below the national median on a consistent basis, slightly improving each year since 2014. Overall, the data from the region shows that more homes are being rated, and efficiency is improving!

Read the full blog post here, where you can also access the previous installments in the series.

SubscribePast IssuesTotal and Average HERS Ratings in NEEP Region,
2014-2016

Plan Review and Inspection

NYSERDA and its team of partners, TY Lin International, Newport Ventures, Steven Winter Associates, IBTS, and the ICC, are here to provide free plan review, field inspection, and 1v1 consultations to code officials, architects, engineers and builders. Contact Scott Copp at planreview@tylin.com, or 585-512-2000. <https://nyserdacodetraining.com/services.php>

Energy Code Hotline

Have a question about something in the energy code? Our team of code experts is here to answer any and all of your questions related to the 2015 IECC and New York Supplement. Call us today!

518-377-9410

energyservices@newportventures.net

The Home Energy Heroes program recognizes builders and trade contractors who are investing in education and training to stay up to date with the Energy Code, learn new building practices, and help ensure quality, efficient, and durable homes for New Yorkers. Learn more at HomeEnergyHeroes.com.

Energy Code Training

Subscribe

Past Issues

Newport Ventures provides top quality energy code training and support services that are designed for both code officials and construction trades. Learn more about our class offerings by visiting our website.

Copyright © 2017 Newport Partners, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list